Brand Refresh

COLOUR

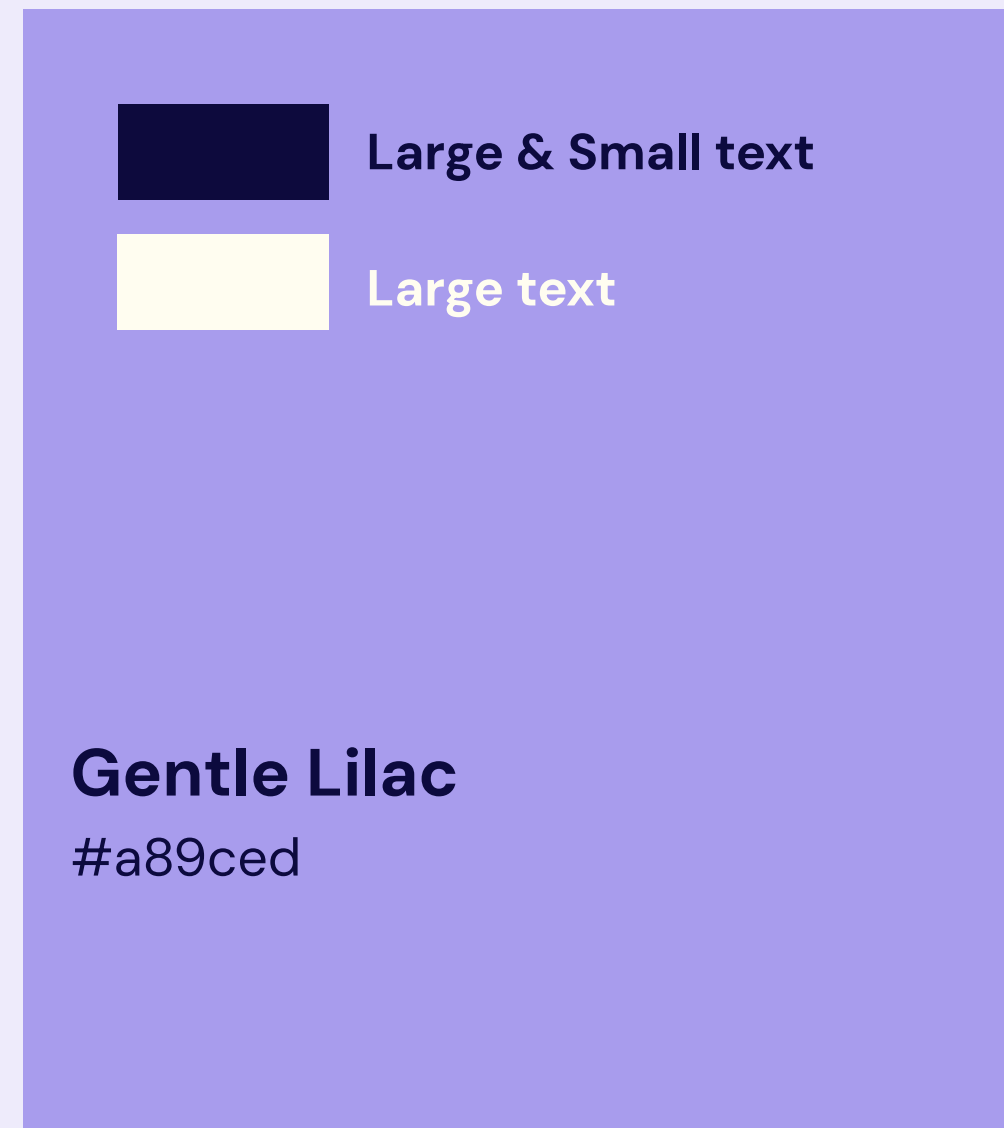

The following shows which colour combinations you can use together, updated from main brand-guidelines for web to be more limited and refined.

It is very important that you stick to this for accessibility reasons.

The main updated rule for web is for Gentle Lilac to only be used with Deep Navy or off-white to avoid the site looking overly colourful or messy.

A very pale shade of Gentle Yellow has been introduced to break long sections of off-white.

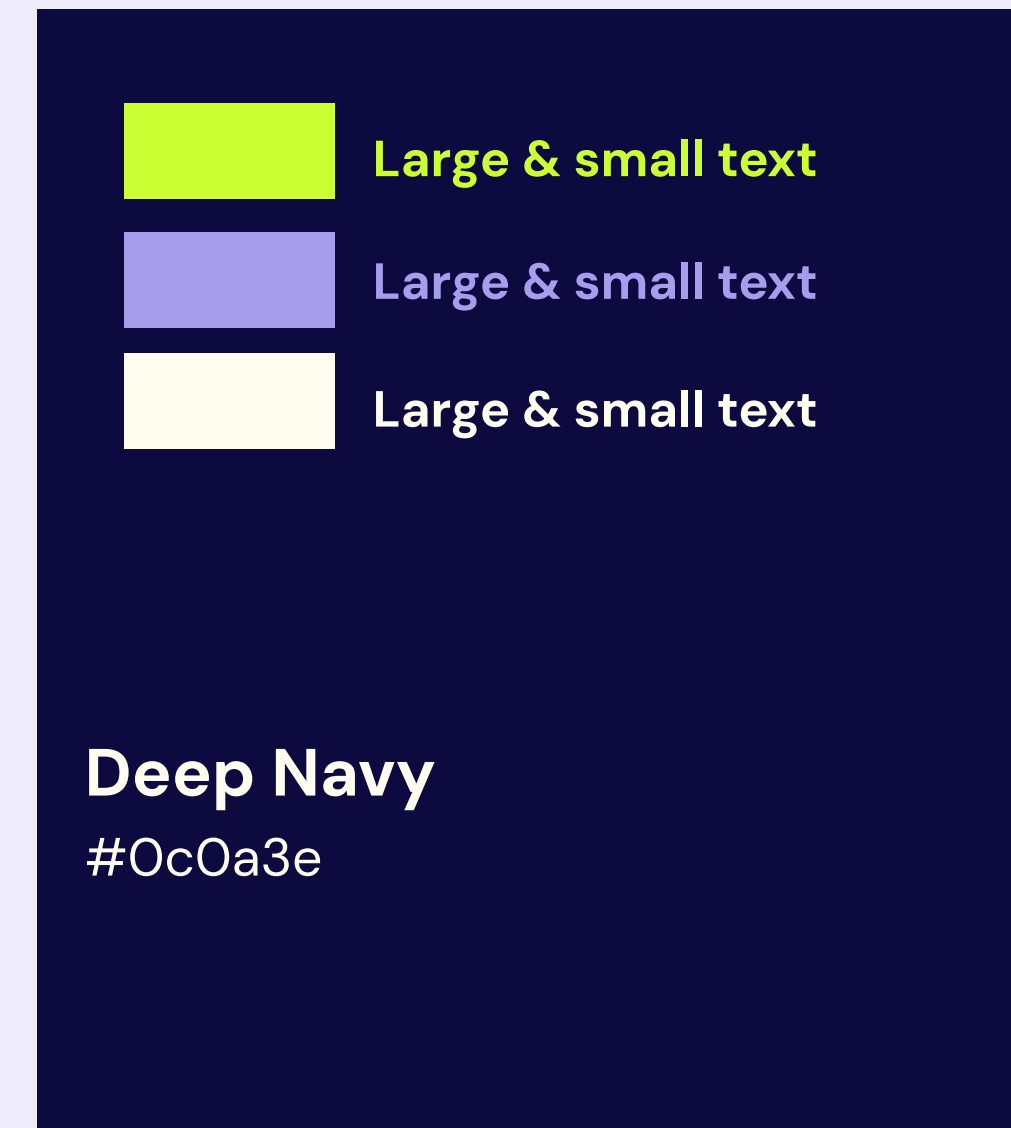

Pink is not used as a background colour, so is not included as one here.

TYPE

We use Corsia in all caps as the headline font, in sentence case for sub-headlines and DM Sans in bold or regular for body copy, and in all caps for a label.

Headlines in Corsia in all caps should be kept to 3 lines max or not over around 6 words.

When both a Corsia caps headline and a Corsia sentence case sub-headline are required, the highlight box could be used with the headline.

When there is neither a Corsia caps headline or a Corsia sentence case sub-headline, the highlight box could be used with a DM Sans caps label.

GRIDS

A roughly 2:5 ration to be used in the two column grid.
In mobile to be a 1 column grid, also left-aligned.

HEADLINE

We create digital tools and campaigns that interrupt cultural moments to fight for gender justice – like flying a plane banner over a football match to break the silence around rape in sports, pushing ITV to drop plastic surgery adverts from Love Island and producing the UK’s first media guidelines on reporting domestic abuse deaths.

We’re working towards a world where people of all genders are loved and liberated from bodily and systemic violence. We do this in our campaign coalitions, and through gathering with community like our monthly workshops on bystander intervention and intervening in police violence.

Our movement includes feminists from a range of backgrounds and all genders, centring the voices and liberation of people who experience gender injustice: women, gender-nonconforming and trans people.

GRIDS

To be adjusted for a three column grid when required for some boxes such as petitions.

COMPONENTS

Colour pairings for buttons and boxes, following brand colour rules outlined above.

High contrast/bright boxes and backgrounds colour pairings to be avoided in order to not make the website too overstimulating i.e.. no Gentle Lilac and Loud Lilac, or Electric Yellow and Loud Lilac.

Option to have a pure white box on an off-white background as a secondary set of boxes.

Alternate button to be used in areas where buttons have been used a lot i.e.. below a set of boxes all with buttons in them.

RATIOS

These are just for illustrative purposes, but for brighter colours to be used more at the beginning and ends of the pages, for headlines and CTA boxes, with the majority of copy to be on palest (and occasionally darkest) colours for accessibility and balance.

TEXTURE

This bit-map texture is to be used over every block of colour.

COLLAGES

Collages to be used predominantly next to Corsia headlines in all caps in 'hero' sections.
